

Injoos Principles

Injoos was conceptualized and built with the community at the core of the solution to make it easy to share relevant information among people who share an aspect of your identity. We are concerned about your privacy and understand that you may not want everyone in the world to have access to the personal information that you share on Injoos.

Injoos allows you to control the information that you provide and share with the world. Our default privacy settings limit the information displayed on your profile to your communities.

Injoos follows the following principle - You should have control over your personal information. If you have questions or ideas, please send them to privacy@injoos.com.

Injoos's Privacy Policy

Injoos's Privacy Policy is designed to help you understand how we collect and use the personal information you decide to share, and help you make informed decisions when using Injoos , located at www.injoos.com and its directly associated domains (collectively, "Injoos" or "Website")

Please read this privacy policy carefully. By visiting and using the Site, you agree that your use of the Site, and any dispute over privacy, is governed by this privacy policy and our Terms of Use at the following link: <http://www.injoos.com/termsofservice.pdf>.

The Information You provide

When you visit Injoos, you provide us with two types of information: personal information you knowingly choose to disclose that is collected by us and Web Site use information collected by us as you interact with our Web Site.

When you register with Injoos, you provide us with certain personal information, such as your name, your email address or any other details information.

When you enter Injoos, we collect your browser type and IP address. This information is gathered for all Injoos visitors. In addition, we store certain information from your browser using "cookies." A cookie is a piece of data stored on the user's computer tied to information about the user. We use session ID cookies to confirm that users are logged in. These cookies terminate once the user closes the browser. By default, we use a persistent cookie that stores your login ID (but not your password) to make it easier for you to login when you come back to Injoos. You can remove or block this cookie using the settings in your browser if you want to disable this convenience feature.

Any improper collection or misuse of information provided on Injoos is a violation of the Injoos Terms of Service and should be reported to privacy@injoos.com.

If you choose to use our invitation service to tell a friend about our site, we will ask you for information needed to send the invitation, such as your friend's email address. We will automatically send your friend an email or instant message inviting him or her to visit the site. Injoos stores this information to send this invitation, to register a friend connection if your invitation is accepted, and to track the success of our referral program. Your friend may contact us at info@injoos.com to request that we remove this information from our database.

To register for access to the Site and subsequent use, Injoos may require you to provide personal information. Wherever personal information is requested, you may be asked for your age or birth date. You hereby agree that all information you provide to Injoos regarding age verification shall be truthful, accurate, and complete.

OUR COMMITMENT TO CHILDRENS' PRIVACY

The Site is NOT directed to or intended for people under the age of Sixteen. A User less than 16 (Sixteen) years of age should not register to use the Site. Injoos does not knowingly collect any personal information from people under the age of sixteen. If you are a parent of a child under the age of sixteen and you have questions about our Site or Privacy Policy, please feel free to contact Injoos Privacy Coordinator at privacy@injoos.com.

Those between the age of Sixteen and Eighteen are to provide either of their parent's Email ID while registering and an Email will be sent informing about the registration confirmation to use Injoos services. The parent will be legally bound by any acts/deeds/Violation of Injoos Terms of Use & Privacy Policy by their wards.

Use of Information Obtained by Injoos

When you register with Injoos, you create your own profile and privacy settings. We may occasionally use your name and email address to send you notifications regarding services offered by Injoos that we think you may find valuable.

Profile information is used by Injoos primarily to be presented back to and edited by you when you access the service and to be presented to others permitted to view that information by your privacy settings. If you submit personally identifiable information to us through Injoos, we use your personal information to operate, maintain and provide to you the features and functionality, and enhancements to Injoos.

Any personal information or video content that you voluntarily disclose online in Injoos and becomes publicly available, can be collected, seen and used by others besides us. We cannot be and are not responsible for any unauthorized third party use of such information. Your account name and not your email address is displayed to other users / members when you use the features of Injoos and other users / members can contact you through messages and comments. Any videos that you submit to Injoos may be redistributed through the internet and other media channels, and may be viewed by the general public.

Injoos may send you service-related announcements or alerts from time to time through the general operation of the service. For instance, a specific news item being posted, a event in the community, a private message through Injoos messaging service etc may present you with an email alerting you to that fact.

Generally, you may opt out of such emails by changing the settings in My Profile, though Injoos reserves the right to send you notice about your account even if you opt out of all voluntary email notifications.

When you use Injoos, our servers automatically record certain information that your web browser sends whenever you visit any website. These server logs may include but not limited to information such as your web request, Internet Protocol ("IP") address, browser type, browser language, referring, landing / exit pages and URLs, platform type, number of clicks, domain names, pages viewed and the order of those pages, the amount of time spent on particular pages, the date and time of your request, and one or more cookies that may uniquely identify your browser.

We use cookies, log file information and any other technology that is available to remember information so that you will not have to re-enter it during your visit or the next time you visit Injoos, provide custom, personalized content and information, monitor the effectiveness of our marketing campaigns and monitor metrics such as total number of visitors, pages viewed, etc.

We use both your personally identifiable information and certain non-personally-identifiable information as given above to improve the quality and design of Injoos and to create new features, promotions, functionality, and services by storing, tracking, and analyzing user / member preferences and trends.

The Site includes links to other websites and provides access to products and services offered by third parties, whose privacy policies we do not control. When you access another website or purchase third party products or services through the Site, use of any information you provide is governed by the privacy policy of the operator of the site you are visiting or the provider of such products or services.

We may also make some content, products and services available through our Site through cooperative relationships with third party providers, where the brands of our provider partner appear on the Site in connection with such content, products and/or services. We may share with our provider partner any information you provide, or that is collected, in the course of visiting any pages that are made available in cooperation with our provider partner. In some cases, the provider partner may collect information from you directly; in which cases the privacy policy of the provider partner may apply to the provider partner's use of your information. The privacy policy of our provider partners may differ from ours. If you have any questions regarding the privacy policy of one of our provider partners, you should contact the provider partner directly for more information. Be aware that we may occasionally release information about visitors / members when release is appropriate to comply with law, to enforce our Terms of Service agreement, or to protect the rights, property or safety of users of the Site, the public, or Injoos.

Please also note that as our business grows, we may buy or sell various assets. In the event of a change in ownership, or a merger with, acquisition by, or sale of assets to, another entity, we reserve the right to transfer all of Injoos site's User information, including email addresses, to a separate entity. Injoos site will notify Users (via a posting on this site or email (in Injoos site's discretion) of such a transfer, and Users may choose to modify their registration information at that time.

Sharing your information with third parties

Injoos is about sharing information with others — friends and other people in your communities — while providing you with privacy settings that restrict other users from accessing your information. We allow you to choose the information you provide to friends and communities through Injoos. Our architecture and your privacy settings allow you to make informed choices about who has access to your information. We do not provide contact information to third party marketers without your permission. We share your information with third parties only in limited circumstances where we believe such sharing is 1) reasonably necessary to offer the service, 2) legally required or, 3) permitted by you. For example:

- Unlike most sites on the Web, Injoos limits access to site information by third party search engine "crawlers" (e.g. Google, Yahoo, MSN, Ask). Injoos takes action to block access by these engines to personal information beyond your name, profile picture, and limited aggregated data about your profile or a few features that will allow for such an access. These features will be announced from time-to-time, either to the email you have given or within Injoos.
- We may provide information to service providers to help us bring you the services we offer. Specifically, we may use third parties to facilitate our business, such as to host the service at a co-location facility for servers, to send out email updates about Injoos, to remove repetitive information from our user lists, to process payments for products or services, or to provide search results or links (including sponsored links). In connection with these offerings and business operations, our service providers may have access to your personal information for use for a limited time in connection with these business activities. Where we utilize third parties for the processing of any personal information, we implement reasonable contractual and technical protections limiting the use of that information to the Injoos-specified purposes.

- We occasionally provide demonstration accounts that allow non-users a glimpse into the Injoos world. Such accounts have only limited capabilities (e.g., messaging is disabled) and passwords are changed regularly to limit possible misuse.
- We may be required to disclose user information pursuant to lawful requests, such as subpoenas or court orders, or in compliance with applicable laws. We do not reveal information until we have a good faith belief that an information request by law enforcement or private litigants meets applicable legal standards. Additionally, we may share account or other information when we believe it is necessary to comply with law, to protect our interests or property, to prevent fraud or other illegal activity perpetrated through the Injoos service or using the Injoos name, or to prevent imminent bodily harm. This may include sharing information with other companies, lawyers, agents or government agencies.
- We may offer stores or provide services jointly with other companies on Injoos. You can tell when another company is involved in any store or service provided on Injoos, and we may share customer information with that company in connection with your use of that store or service.
- Like many other websites that interact with third party sites, we may receive some information even if you are logged out from Injoos, or that pertains to non-Injoos users, from those sites in conjunction with the technical operation of the system. In cases where Injoos receives information on users that are not logged in, or on non-Injoos users, we do not attempt to associate it with individual Injoos accounts and will discard it.
- If the ownership of all or substantially all of the Injoos business, or individual business units owned by Injoos Web Solutions Pvt Ltd, were to change, your user information may be transferred to the new owner of the business so that service can continue operations. In any such transfer of information, your user information would remain subject to the promises made in any pre-existing Privacy Policy.

We may provide our advertisers with information about you, your community and other visitors that will enable our advertisers to better target ads to specific types of visitors. We reserve the right to use and to disclose to third parties all of the information that we collect online about you and other visitors in any way and for any purpose, with one important exception. We will not use the information that we collect online from you while you are using the Site, nor will we authorize third parties to use such information, to mail or email promotional offers directly to you unless you have specifically informed us that you would like to receive promotional offers from us and/or from third parties. If you choose to receive these promotional offers, then your information may be used for direct mail or email marketing. However, you will be given the option of optin out of this programme by clicking the unsubscribe link or by sending us an email to support@injoos.com.

When you use Injoos, certain information you post or share with third parties (e.g., a friend or someone in your network), such as personal information, comments, messages, photos, videos, or other information, may be shared with other users in accordance with the privacy settings you select. All such sharing of information is done at your own risk. Please keep in mind that if you disclose personal information in your profile or when posting comments, messages, photos, videos, or other items, this information may become publicly available.

Injoos site reserves the right to disclose personally identifiable information and/or non-personally-identifiable information that Injoos believes, in good faith, is appropriate or necessary to enforce our Terms of Use, take precautions against liability, to investigate and defend itself against any third-party claims or allegations, to assist government enforcement agencies, to protect the security or integrity of our web site, and to protect the rights, property, or personal safety of Injoos, our users / members or others.

Links to other websites

Injoos may contain links to other websites. We are of course not responsible for the privacy practices of other web sites. We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our site to read the privacy statements of each and every web site that collects personally identifiable information. This Privacy Policy applies solely to information collected by Injoos.

Third Party Advertising

Advertisements that appear on Injoos are sometimes delivered (or "served") directly to users by third party advertisers. They automatically receive your IP address when this happens. These third party advertisers may also download cookies to your computer, or use other technologies such as JavaScript and "web beacons" (also known as "1x1 gifs") to measure the effectiveness of their ads and to personalize advertising content. Doing this allows the advertising network to recognize your computer each time they send you an advertisement in order to measure the effectiveness of their ads and to personalize advertising content. In this way, they may compile information about where individuals using your computer or browser saw their advertisements and determine which advertisements are clicked. Injoos does not have access to or control of the cookies that may be placed by the third party advertisers. Third party advertisers have no access to your contact information stored on Injoos unless you choose to share it with them.

This privacy policy covers the use of cookies by Injoos and does not cover the use of cookies or other tracking technologies by any of its advertisers.

No Spam Policy

Our No Spam Policy and Terms of Service prohibit all Users from engaging in any activity involving the sending of email in violation of applicable law. Violations of these policies may result in immediate termination of service and legal action against any spammers.

Changing or Removing Information

Access and control over most personal information on Injoos is readily available through the profile editing tools. Injoos users may modify or delete any of their profile information at any time by logging into their account. Information will be updated immediately. Individuals who wish to deactivate their Injoos account may do so on the My Profile page. Removed information may persist in backup copies for a reasonable period of time but will not be generally available to members of Injoos.

Where you make use of the communication features of the service to share information with other individuals on Injoos, however, (e.g., sending a personal message to another Injoos user) you generally cannot remove such communications.

Security

We use commercially reasonable physical, managerial, and technical safeguards to preserve the integrity and security of your personal information. We cannot, however, ensure or warrant the security of any information you transmit to Injoos site and you do so at your own risk. Once we receive your transmission of information, Injoos makes commercially reasonable efforts to ensure the security of our systems. However, please note that this is not a guarantee that such information may not be accessed, disclosed, altered, or destroyed by breach of any of our physical, technical, or managerial safeguards.

If we learn of a security systems breach, then we may attempt to notify you electronically so that you can take appropriate protective steps. Injoos may post a notice on the Site if a security breach occurs. Depending on where you live, you may have a legal right to receive notice of a security breach in writing. To receive a free written notice of a security breach (or to withdraw your consent from receiving electronic notice) you should notify us using this link privacy@injoos.com.

International Users

By visiting Injoos site and providing Injoos site with data, you acknowledge and agree that due to the international dimension of Injoos site we may use the data collected in the course of our relationship for the purposes identified in this Privacy Policy or in our other communications with you, including the transmission of information outside your resident jurisdiction. In addition, please understand that such data may be stored on servers located in the United States where laws protecting Personal Data may not be as stringent as the laws in your jurisdiction. By providing us with your data, you consent to the transfer of such data.

Terms of Use, Notices and Revisions

Your use of Injoos, and any disputes arising from it, is subject to this Privacy Policy as well as our Terms of Use and all of its dispute resolution provisions including arbitration, limitation on damages and choice of law. We reserve the right to change our Privacy Policy and our Terms of Use at any time. Non-material changes and clarifications will take effect immediately, and material changes will take effect within 30 days of their posting on this site. If we make changes, we will post them and will indicate at the top of this page the policy's new effective date. If we make material changes to this policy, we will notify you here, by email, or through notice on our home page. We encourage you to refer to this policy on an ongoing basis so that you understand our current privacy policy. Unless stated otherwise, our current privacy policy applies to all information that we have about you and your account.

If you are a user / member accessing Injoos Site from any region other than from India, with laws or regulations governing personal data collection, use, protection and disclosure, that differ from Indian laws, please be advised that through your use of Injoos Site, this Privacy Notice, and our Terms of Use, we will only be complying with the legal provisions on the subject matter as applicable in India from time to time.

Notifying changes:

Injoos site reserves the right at any time to: change the terms of this Agreement; change the Services, including removing or modifying any content on or feature of the Site; or change/charge any fees or charges for use of the Services.

Any changes we make will be effective immediately on notice, which we may give either by posting the new Agreement on the Site or via electronic mail. Your use of the Services after such notice will be deemed acceptance of such changes. Be sure to review this Agreement periodically to ensure your familiarity with the most current version. You will always be able to tell when the version was last updated by checking the "Last Revised" date in the header of this agreement.

Conflict resolution:

We are committed to resolving disputes as soon as feasible and shall endeavor to resolve all disputes brought to our notice in keeping with the mechanism prescribed, within 45 working days of such receipt.
